

STORY OF THE NILE BEAUTIFULLY TOLD

THE SECOND PRESENTATION OF EGYPTA ADDED TO SUCCESS OF FIRST

MATINEE GIVEN THIS AFTERNOON

St. Agnes Guild, Under Whose Auspices Opera Was Given, Can Feel Gratified.

Egypta, the wondrous story of the Nile, is evidently a favorite home talent production with the people of Dixon, for a splendid house witnessed the second performance last night at the Dixon opera house.

Like the first performance, everything moved along without the slightest hesitancy on the part of anyone. The music is beautiful and inspiring, and on the whole, there is an interesting story told all through the opera.

One can hardly say that the second rendition was much of an improvement over the first, aside from a little of the stiffness being worn off; the young people sang no better.

The opera, under the direction of William D. Chenery, is well staged. The scenic effects are realistic and beautiful and add much to the production of the piece.

The features of the opera which were especially interesting and well acted last evening were the Dance Orientale and the grand drill by the Royal Legion. The young ladies in the former and the little boys in the latter won the heartiest applause given during the evening's entertainment.

The ladies of St. Agnes Guild, of St. Luke's church, under whose auspices the opera was given, made no mistake in the selection of Egypta as a medium through which to increase the treasury of the society. If not only has sufficient literary and musical merit to take well with all music loving people, but it tells a beautiful and impressive story which lives long in the minds of those who saw its production.

ELKS PLEASED WITH BAZAAR OPENING

ATTENDANCE ON FIRST NIGHT EXCEEDED THAT OF LIKE EVENTS.

MANY WILL DANCE TONIGHT

Friday Will Be High School Night, With a Special Program in Sight.

One of the largest opening nights ever known at a bazaar in this city was held by the Elks last evening at Rosbrook hall.

There were seventy-five couples on the dance floor enjoying themselves during the evening. Forty Thanksgiving fowls were disposed of at the buyer's own price and many left the hall loaded down with these trophies.

Another fine bunch of these fowls will be on sale tonight and all those who did not get a bird last evening will have another chance. The sale will start at 7:30 o'clock and of course the first there will have the best chance.

The dance floor last evening had much more the appearance of a party than that of a fair.

This evening promises to be a big night, it being Thanksgiving eve. Dancing will be started early and will be preceded by a short concert by the orchestra.

Friday night has been set aside as high school night and all the young people are cordially invited to attend. A fine special program has been arranged for that night and it will start promptly at eight o'clock. Those who will take part will be announced later.

David Ortgiesen transacted business in Morrison yesterday.

PUSHING WORK ON NEW BRIDGE

ELECTRICITY WILL OPERATE NEW RAILWAY BRIDGE AT CLINTON.

Work is being rushed on the new railway bridge at Clinton and the workmen are now busy putting in the finishing spans between the island and the west bank of the river. This is the most important piece of the work, as it contains the draw span. But much of the work has been accomplished and the activity will go on during the winter.

In the spring the company will begin the building of a great power plant just south of the Iowa end of the bridge to furnish the electric current to operate the draw in the bridge for the interlocking switch plants established at either end of the new structure. When this work is completed the bridge will be one of the best equipped and complete structures of its kind that crosses the Mississippi.

200 PERISHED IN FIRE AT SEA

VESSEL BURNS OFF SHORE OF MALTA IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

STORM PREVENTS RESEQUE WORK

Many Jumped Into the Sea and Were Drowned While Others Burned With the Vessel.

Valette Island, Malta, Nov. 25—Special—Nearly two hundred people perished today by the burning of the Ellerman liner Sardinia off Malta in the Mediterranean.

Many passengers jumped overboard in the mad panic which followed the outbreak of the fire and scores were drowned. Others remained on board and were trapped by the flames and roasted alive.

The storm prevented the work of rescue, the other craft standing at a distance, being helpless to save those who perished on the vessel or in the water.

EXPECT GREAT GAME TOMORROW

NORTH DIXON WILL PLAY FULTON AT ATHLETIC PARK AT 3:15 P. M.

The North Dixon high school football team went through a hard signal practice last evening in preparation for the game with the Fulton high school team, to be played at Athletic park in this city tomorrow afternoon. They are perfecting the new style of plays, the forward pass and the outside kick. Several coaches were present and pronounce the team greatly improved in this department of the game since Saturday, saying that there is no reason why they should not excel the Whiteside county boys on the new style of game. It is expected that the Fulton team will put up a hard game for they have made a good record this season, holding the Clinton high school team to a tie. The game will be called at 3:15 so as to give everybody ample time to enjoy turkey and see the game. The following is the probable lineup of the local team:

FIRE BUG ON THE TRAIL OF LOONEYS

THIRD VISITATION OF ENEMY BRINGS $75,000 FIRE AT ROCK ISLAND.

ONCE BLOWN UP BY A BOMB

Building That Housed the "News" Guttered by Fire—Many People Suffer.

Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 25—A fire believed to have been of incendiary origin, followed an explosion Monday morning and gutted the Star block, composed of the Looney and a number of other buildings on Second avenue, causing a damage estimated at $75,000. A half dozen business firms, a dozen professional men and a number of apartment residents were damaged to a greater or less extent. The Looney building, which formerly housed the historic Rock Island News, was the greatest sufferer, that structure being damaged practically beyond repair.

The Star block is composed of a number of buildings erected on a uniform plan of architecture. The ground floor is devoted to storerooms, a portion of the second floor to office suites and the balance and all of the third to living apartments. All were damaged materially by fire, smoke and water.

The explosion which preceded the fire occurred about 4:20 in the morning and it was only a few minutes before the entire building was a mass of flames. The fire originated on the second floor of the Looney building and spread to other portions of the block.

It is claimed that a man was seen running over the roof of the block a few seconds after the explosion and it is believed he was responsible for the fire.

YOUTHFUL ROBBERS WERE APPREHENDED

BROKE INTO CAPT. CAPRON'S HOUSE AND STOLE MANY ARTICLES.

MOST OF STUFF IS RETURNED

No One Was at Home at the Time the Articles Were Taken.

The home of Mrs. Grant Capron on Madison avenue was recently entered by several boys during the absence of the family, who have been away from the city several months.

Residents of the neighborhood discovered that the house was broken into last week. The police were notified and went to work on the case. In the meantime Mrs. Capron was notified and she arrived from Chicago last Saturday. She made an inventory and found the following articles were missing: A small field glass, large field glass, Colt rifle and case, knapsack, cleaning outfit, revolver, drum, watch, two pair of boxing gloves, bugle, nickel tripod sketching case, sabre, H. P. sword, electric push light, heavy gold ring worth $11 to $15, one amethyst worth $10 and several other articles, valued at approximately $300. One of the boys was placed under surveillance and he confessed the theft and gave the names of the other boys implicated in the burglary. All of the articles were returned with the exception of the tripod sketching case, drum, punching bag and revolver. The boys were given a severe lecture and released, the owner having no desire to prosecute.

"THE BOY EMIGRANTS"

Searching for another story of local interest to be printed serially in the Telegraph, we have decided to give our readers "The Boy Emigrants." This story is written by Noah Brooks, a former Dixon man, who was one of a party of four boys who left Palmyra for California in a prairie schooner in the early fifties, soon after gold was discovered in that state. The story is made up very largely of the author's personal observations and experiences at that time and forms an accurate and interesting picture of that history making time.

Speaking of the homes which the boys left to seek their fortunes in the far west, the author says: "Sugar Grove was a small settlement on a broken rise of ground. Behind stood a dense grove of sugar-maples, extending two miles east and west. In front of the few houses and the row of wheat farms was a broad valley belting with trees, and through which Rock river wound in big curves, now faint in the early summer night. The crop was mostly in the ground, and the little farm looked tidy."

Stories of wonderful wealth had reached the boys through returning prospectors and they were fired with enthusiasm to seek their own fortunes. The author describes the day dreams of one of the boys before he had fully made up his mind to start on his great undertaking: "This time, as he lay at full length on top of the hill behind the house, looking off down the valley of the Rock, he built once more his golden dream. Beyond the brown, newly-plowed fields, suggesting only hard work; beyond the tall cottonwoods that bordered the stream, and beyond the pale blue line where the valley of the Rock melted into the sky, was the promised land. So far away it was! Yet he could see he thought, the gay caravans pressing on to the golden shores of the Pacific. There were long trains of brave men with wagons, horses and arms. There were the rolling prairies dotted with buffalo, deer and strange game. The red man lurked by the trails, but fled away to the snow capped mountains as the white conqueror came on apace. The grand Rocky Mountains, whose devils line he had painfully studied on his school map, rose majestically on the horizon, lying like clouds against the sky."

The first chapter will appear in The Telegraph Saturday, November 28.

city Tuesday on business at the county offices.

THANKSGIVING HYMN

By Towsend Allen

Copyright 1907 By T. L. McGrath

O LOVING Source of all,
We on thy great name call
And give thee thanks.
With grateful hearts we raise
Our joyful song of praise.
Thou who hast blest our days,
We give thee thanks.

L ORD of the sun and rain,
Lord of the fruit and grain,
We give thee thanks.
For thy rich harvests stored,
For plenty on each board,
For all thy bounties, Lord,
We give thee thanks.

FOR life and strength and health,
Best of all earthly wealth,
We give thee thanks.
For these our friends so dear, Gathered from far and near
This feast day of the year,
We give thee thanks.

Why Not Let Diapiesin Take Care of Your Meals Until Your Stomach
Gets Strong and Healthy Again?

If your meals don't tempt you, or you feel bloated after eating and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something for a sour stomach and indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nauseous Breath, and stomach trouble of all kind; putrefying the intestines and digestive canal, causing such misery as Bloating, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapiesin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking one Triangle that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble
Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at your pharmacist any time you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapiesin will purify the sourdest and most acid stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort all of any kind of food you could eat.

LEE ITEMS.

Lee, Ill., Nov. 25—This is fine
Thanksgiving weather.

Cotton tails are very plentiful at present and hunters are after them.

Corn is coming to our market nearly every day and prices are rising slowly.

Dr. Keene of Shabbona was called to the F. W. Erbes residence Saturday where a horse was caught in a barb wire fence and cut severely.

turned to his home on last Thursday.

A big Thanksgiving dinner is being planned at the home of Mrs. Ida Dulin in Willow Creek.

Fred Smith of near Pawpaw, was here Saturday.

Dad Edwards was in the country repairing windmills the last couple of days.

Hunters are busy shooting and Fred Erbes narrowly escaped having his buildings burned on the va-by a fire started carelessly. A straw stack was burned.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Maud Olson of Chicago

The ceremony will occur at the home

The sad and surprising news was spread Saturday morning of the death of Guterns K. Rissetter. Mr.
Rissetter was in our village Friday afternoon, looking hardy and well.
At supper time at his home he complained of not feeling well and retired. This was not an occasion for alarm and nothing further was noticed until one o'clock Saturday morning when his low breathing caused his relatives to send to Pawpaw for Dr. Stettler, but he arrived too late as Mr. Rissetter passed away shortly after 2 o'clock. The funeral was held Tuesday. The obituary will be published next week.

GROWS HAIR ON BALD HEADS

BALDHEADED PEOPLE MAY GET A NEW CHANCE IN LIFE.

In these days when youth is the moving factor in business, when a man makes his mark at thirty-five and is ready to retire at forty-five; when business houses pension the man we call "middle aged" rather than allow his lagging influence to intrude upon the commercial rush, a bald head is almost fatal to any man's hopes. The following must therefore prove interesting to people who are losing their hair or who are bald.

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, and also creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarbin is a well known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease of the scalp.
Yet it is not a coloring matter or dye.

This combination of curatives mixed with alcohol as a stimulant per-fects the most effective remedy for hair and scalp troubles.

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is composed of Resorcin, Beta Napthol and Pilocarbin. It makes the scalp healthy, nourishes the hair, stimulates the follicles. Where the head is already bare, it enters the follicles, revitalizes the roots, supplies nourishment and stimulates a new growth.

We want you to try a few bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except of course where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall
"93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done to hundreds of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee.—C. M. Campbell & Son, Druggists, 105 First St.,

NEW HISTORICAL WORK.

The Illinois State Historical society has just issued its second journal.
This little book is rapidly assuming a historic value in its contents. Its pages include in the present edition reports of the Lincoln-Douglas debate celebrations at Ottawa, Freeport, Jonesboro, Galesburg, Charleston and Alton.

An article is devoted to the Lincoln-Douglas debate of 1858 edited by Prof. Edwin Erle Sparks and published by the Illinois Historical Library. It is printed by the University Press of Chicago and is bound in blue buckram to correspond to the other numbers of the historical collections. Prof. Sparks devoted much time to the preparation of this volume, having collected all available local historical material in regard to each one of the seven joint debates.

Thanksgiving Pumpkin Pie

YOU may talk about your foreign cooks and all the things they make.

The thousand dainty dishes that they stew and boil and bake; You may prate about their wondrous skill in culinary arts, How deftly they can manufacture puddings, pies and tarts; Go praise the French and German chefs and the Italians, too, For making salads, sauces, soups and fancy dishes new, But for a toothsome morsel upon which I can rely Just give to me a solid wedge of Yankee pumpkin pie!

Let those of fashionable tastes turn up the nose in pride And think it quite plebeian to be simply satisfied; Let them eat their pate de foie gras, their truffles and such stuff With foreign names, suspicious looks and odors rank enough:

JUST GIVE TO ME A SOLID WEDGE OF YANKEE PUMPKIN PIE!

Let them eat those airy pastry puffs they think so very nice Because they've got outlandish names and cost a mighty price, But, say, to curb your appetite and your stomach satisfy There's nothing like a great big chunk of Yankee pumpkin pie!

Roast beef may have more nutriment, more body building worth; Veal, mutton, lamb, be nourishing and stretching of your girth; Your chicken, duck or turkey may suit palates very fine, But these can take a back seat when I'm passing down the line. Fish, flesh and fowl may serve to stay the appetites of some, But you must treat me better when I to your table come. Leave out the high toned viands, let each dainty dish go by, If I can get my face fast in a piece of pumpkin pie!

—John S. Grey in New York Tribune.

HIS TURKEY WAS CROW.

Why the Fine Old Gentleman Hates Practical Politics.

"Bluest Thanksgiving I ever spent?" mused the fine old gentleman who has an unconquerable antipathy to practical politics. "It stands out in my memory like an obelisk on a plane, and it was not so very long ago either."

"I had been induced that fall to run for an important public office. It was done against my better judgment and under great pressure, but when a man enters such a fight he wants to win. I was in a close district and determined to put up the very best fight that the circumstances would permit. I advertised at once for an extra stenographer and from the many who responded selected a beautiful, bright and dashing young woman who justified my immediate faith in her ability. She did all my private correspondence, knew as much about the inside of the campaign as I did, working day and night with a willingness that was surprising, and even took from one of my shrewdest advisers the list of voters in the strongest section with which I had to contend, with full instructions as to how the most influential persons among them could be won to my cause. It was great work, and yet I fell several hundred short of the normal party vote."

"My successful opponent lived in a neighboring town and graciously invited me to be his guest on the following Thanksgiving. It would have looked surly to refuse, and I went. It was really an admirable social function, but the few hours I put in there were torture. The host met me with a hearty hand clasp. 'Turning he said, 'My wife,' resplendent in satin and jewels I saw my stenographer. 'Love and war,' she murmured. 'He thinks I was visiting my old home in New England.' I held my peace, but that fatted turkey tasted like crow."—Detroit Free Press.

Fatherly Advice. "The farmer," said the young turkey, "seems to be very fond of me. He throws the choicest morsels of corn to me every day and in many ways shows his admiration for me."

"Well," advised the old turkey, "I wouldn't let it go on if I were you. You are apt to lose your head over it."

THANKSGIVING IN FRANCE.

M. Blanc's Surprise For His American Guests.

"The most un-American Thanksgiving I ever spent was in a French hotel ten years ago," says a woman contributor to the New York Globe. "The proprietor was a friendly old soul and liberal to a fault. He not only invited all the guests in the house to dinner, but he sent invitations to ex-guests as well. One family who had spent the previous winter with him had gone home to America, leaving their daughter at school. Old M. Blanc sent an invitation to the school, and the demoiselle Americaine and a governess came to Paris and spent the day at the hotel. I had a country house near Paris then, but M. Blanc did not forget me either. So I went into Paris, taking my two girls with me. The hotel was a small one, but well known, and it was a rendezvous for many interesting Americans. The tables were decked with holly and mistletoe. M. Blanc in his ardor had mixed up our American fetes. He moved about, smiling mysteriously and whispering to questioners that he had a surprise in store for us—a dessert which would make us all feel as if we were not in Paris at all, but back in that faroff 'chez vous' whence we had come. There were much laughing and merriment, and we drank M. Blanc's health in his best wine as a mark of appreciation. His waiters soon appeared tottering beneath the weight of a huge plum pudding wreathed in holly and bearing an American and a French flag. Of course we heaped him with praise. He beamed and beamed, poured brandy over his chef d'oeuvre and lighted it, served it himself and said to each person as they thanked him: 'Did I not tell you you would feel chez vous? It is good and hot. Your national dish! Will you have some more fire?'"

The Athletes' Dinner. De Style—What makes you think the Farrants are going to have a regular athletic Thanksgiving dinner? Gunbusta—Why, they had their turkey killed with a golf club and stuffed with tennis balls.

To Awaken the Liver

Coated tongue, aching head, biliousness, indigestion, constipation alternating with looseness of the bowels, feelings of depression and ill-temper.

These arise from sluggish torpid action of the liver. Relief comes after the use of one of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills and cure with a few weeks' use of this great regulator of the liver.

With the liver right there is usually no disturbance of the digestive system or bowels. Therefore get at the cause of trouble by awakening the liver to action by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills.

Mr. Z. M. TAYLOR, Port Chester, Md. writes:—"Having used Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills for a number of years I consider them the best liver regulator I ever used. I cheerfully recommend them to anyone afflicted with headache and other symptoms of a disordered liver."

The Example.

Mr. Pitt—The United States sets an example to Europe every Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Penn—That's true. They don't have Thanksgiving days in Europe, but then they haven't so much to be thankful for.

"I wasn't thinking of that feature of it."

"What were you thinking of?"

"Of the dismemberment of Turkey."

The Roman Cerealia.

With the idea of returning thanks for a bounteous harvest the warlike Romans set apart some days in the autumn of each year for what they termed the Cerealia in honor of the goddess Ceres. This observance is said to be as ancient as the reign of Romulus and was altogether an outdoor frolic. There were gay processions to the fields and rustic merry-makings, alluded to by the poet Virgil.

Thanksgiving Tip.

If the second joint may be considered a second joint in any sense other than anatomically it is so close a second that it may always be successfully played for a place on the race track of epicurean prestige and hilarity.—Judge.

Two Reasons.

"You mustn't play with Mr. Borum's hat, Bobby," said a young lady who was entertaining a caller to her small brother.

"Why mustn't I?" asked the youngster.

"Because you might break it," replied his sister, "and, besides, he will want it shortly."

Her Great Memory.

The gift of memory was being discussed when Alice wisely said: "Mother's got a good memory. She can remember things a heap further back than any of us children can."

HOLIDAY CLOSING.

The merchants of Dixon are doing a sensible thing in closing their business houses all day Thursday, Thanksgiving.

It is a move in the right direction.

The clerks will appreciate this more than the public. As a general thing a clerk would just as soon put in the whole day as work up until noon. He can never plan to leave town to spend the day with relatives or friends, and if any person is entitled to a full holiday it is the clerks.

If you have never clerked behind the counter you of course cannot appreciate a full holiday.

The customers do not care if the business house closes its doors Wednesday evening. It is better for them that such is the case. They can't get goods on Sunday so they get busy and purchase what they need over Sunday on Saturday.

It is simply an education to the general public.

Let the good work continue, merchant, and on every holiday close up your place of business and with your faithful clerk take the right kind of a holiday.

BOOST FOR ELKS.

Every person socially inclined in Dixon should attend the Elks fair at least one night out of the eleven. The Elks are a lot of jolly good fellows and spend considerable money for charitable purposes.

Every dime you spend at the Elks fair is a dime well spent.

The Elks do their work of charity without any advertising. Upon investigation they find a person or family in dire need of financial assistance they get busy immediately and attend to the comforts of that person or family.

There are quite a few little ones in Dixon wearing shoes and stockings purchased by money from the Elks charitable fund.

An Elk knows this better than any one else.

If you don't dance attend the fair anyway; there is always plenty to see and do without dancing.

The best of order prevails every night. The best people in the city go. Every person is welcome as long as they are well behaved.

The gentleman who wears the antlers or the elk's tooth will be ready and willing to answer all questions, show you everything there is to see and will dance with you or see that you get a partner.

Attend at least one night and show your approval of deeds of charity. "And the greatest of these is charity."

SENATOR CUMMINS.

The legislature of Iowa showed its good sense in electing Governor Cummins to represent that great western state in the senate of the United States. Cummins will make his influence and ability felt in that body of national legislators.

He is progressive and strictly honest and sincere in all his legislative work. He has made Iowa a good governor and the citizens of that state showed their confidence in the man at the recent primaries when they gave him such a large vote over his opponent.

The senate is in need of more statesmen of the Cummins type.

If the legislature of New York will send Secretary Root to the United States senate that body will become better by these two great men being there.

WOMAN'S COLUMN

We ask our women readers who are sufficiently interested in this column to send recipes or helpful suggestions conducive to systematic and healthful living.

Picking a duck is not the most delightful task in the world, as any housekeeper will tell you and a simple but effective method has been found in which to do away with the obnoxious pin feathers. After the larger feathers are picked off, rub the flesh of the fowl with pulverized rosin assisted by a towel, the pin feathers will then rub off easily.

Fried Chicken, Maryland Style

Singe and clean, then separate a young chicken weighing about two pounds and a half, into pieces at the joints; divide the breast and the back to make with the others about twelve pieces in all; roll these lightly in flour, seasoned with salt and pepper, then in a beaten egg, diluted with two or three tablespoonfuls of milk or water, and then in sifted bread crumbs. Cut half a pound or more of fat pork into bits and cook these in an iron frying pan until the fat is well tried out; skim off the scraps of pork. Put the prepared chicken into the hot fat and let cook slowly about one hour, turning the pieces as needed to cook all sides evenly. If the chicken be cooked too fast, it will be dry and too brown. When the chicken is cooked pour off the fat, leaving about three tablespoonfuls in the pan; to this add three tablespoonfuls of flour, a scant half a tablespoonful of salt and a little pepper; stir and cook until frothy, then add one cup and a half of cream, and cook and stir until boiling. Dispose the chicken on a hot serving dish, surround it with corn and oyster fritters and bacon rolls. Serve the sauce in a sauce boat.—Mrs. John H. Byers.

Motoring Muffs.

Muffs for motoring are of gigantic proportions, the newest being something like a bolster and provided with extensions which unroll and fall over the knees. For wet days there are waterproof muffs wonderfully soft and pliable and provided with adjustable flaps. Gloves of fur with gauntlets which may reach the elbow are equally warm and cosy. White ones are the latest whim of fashion and are very becoming.

Deception in Rabbit's Fur.

Many a woman who fondly imagines that she is sporting sable or seal skin is wrapped in rabbit skin as truly as was Baby Bunting of nursery rhyme fame. Guileless and innocent in life, the humble rabbit becomes after its demise a monster of deception possessed of as many aliases as the most notorious criminal. Now it is seal, anon it is sable, and again it is chinchilla or ermine. But if women are determined to buy sealskin coats at one-third of the proper price they must expect to be deceived. The pursuit of bargains leads sometimes into devious paths.

Mint Punch

Wash and bruise fresh spearmint and strip off enough leaves to fill a quart bowl. Cover with boiling water and steep ten minutes. Strain, chill and add one cup of grape juice, and add one cup of strawberry or raspberry juice, either fresh or canned. Sweeten with a syrup made by boiling equal quantities of sugar and water for ten minutes. This and all similar drinks are much more bland, when sweetened with a syrup made in this way in preference to using the clear sugar.—Southerner.

White Nut Cake.

Beat half a cup of butter to a cream and gradually beat in one cup and a half of sugar; sift together, two or three times, two cups of sifted flour and two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add the flour mixture to the butter and sugar, alternately, with three-fourths a cup of milk. Add one cup of chopped nut meats and the whites of four eggs, beaten dry.—Mrs. S. M. G.

Practical Uses for Ham Fat.

When seasoning mashed potatoes use the ham fat instead of cream and butter. If the ham has been smoked it gives the potatoes a delicious flavor.

Just before the cooked cabbage is served stir in two tablespoonfuls of ham fryings.

If you are having a good old-fashioned boiled dinner of beans, cauliflower, peas, etc., and haven't any salt pork to boil with it, the ham fat will answer the purpose for seasoning better than anything else.

It is nice for use when warming over Irish potatoes, in dried peas and on wilted lettuce.

For a good appetite ham fat can be used on the table in winter in this way. When the meat is taken from the pan pour in a teacup of boiling water, let boil up with the fat and serve in the place of brown or white gravy. This makes buckwheat cakes very palatable on a cold morning.

Another appetizing dish for breakfast with ham fat as a foundation is this: Dip thin slices of bread in a batter of beaten egg and milk and fry in a spider of boiling ham grease. Take out, cool and serve with beef hash.

DEMENT TOWN DOINGS

Isn't this great weather for the month of November? If it wasn't for the remembrance of the fact that tomorrow is Thanksgiving day, we would have sworn on a stack of bibles that this was the month of April.

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving day. Let us forget the troubles and reverses that have happened during the past year and be thankful for the many times that Dame Fortune has smiled upon us.

Tomorrow there will be no issue of the paper and the editor of this column will enjoy a much needed vacation.

He has nothing but many pleasant memories in connection with the newspaper work during the past year and is thankful for the many favors that have been extended to him in this line of work.

The bashful bachelors—Thankful that leap year is nearing an end so this will lessen our chances of becoming entrapped in Cupid's snare.

Certain young ladies—Thankful that E. M. S. doesn't make the avenue any more—don't get so much newspaper notoriety.

Jack—Thankful that a certain lady did not know where he was between the hours of 5 and 6.

Billy Bryan—Thankful to the voters of the United States for giving me permission to enjoy the old hearthside at Lincoln for another 4 years.

Remember that you may be the master of the situation tomorrow but the chances are that your physician will be on Friday.

Wm. G.—I am thankful that I have nearly mastered the art of roller skating.

R. G.—Thankful that Dorothy is still numbered among the list of prospectives.

James Davlin was here from Chicago last evening visiting old friends on the avenue.

A large bunch of sports from this end of the city will attend the football game at Athletic park tomorrow afternoon.

R. L. Stevenson was here from Clinton, Ia., transacting business yesterday.

C. K.—Thankful that injured mitt is about healed.

ILLINOIS VOTE CANVASS OUT

OFFICIAL FIGURES ON PRESIDENT AND GOVERNOR COMPILED AT SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 25.—The state canvassing board yesterday canvassed the vote at the recent election, with the following results:

President—Taft, 629,932; Bryan, 450,810; Chaslin, 29,364; Debs, 29,711; Gilhaus, 1,680; Hise, 7,724; Turney, 400; Watson, 632.

Governor—Deneen, 550,176; Stevenson, 526,912; Sheen, 33,922; Brower, 31,293; Jennings, 1,526; McCaslin, 10,883.

Thanksgiving Lunch.

Many a thirsty, well meaning, hungry Dixontite will on Thursday next sadly miss those Thanksgiving lunches that Keagle Plein annually served so completely to the queen's taste, though never tasted by the queens. A telephone dispatch from Pleasant Alley, Sterling, informs us that Keagle will on Thursday next serve the same old lunch, though not at the same place. We mean that this will be a duplicate of the same elegant lunches; as we do not intend to convey the idea that the same roast pig, scalloped oysters, quail on toast, baked turkey, etc., will be there; but we are assured that a duplicate of the good things that the "barkeep" was wont to serve here in Dixon will be the layout down at Sterling. No doubt the people of Sterling will appreciate the lunch on Thursday and perhaps some of our folks who know a good meal when they taste it, will go down and sample the grub.

WESTERN UNION HOURS.

The Western Union office will observe Sunday closing hours tomorrow. The office will be open from 9 to 10 in the forenoon and from 5 to 6 in the afternoon.

Misses Mary Everts and Ruth Benjamin will enjoy Thanksgiving in Chicago.

Carl C. Moses, field superintendent for the Franklin Life Insurance company of Springfield, is again in this city looking after business for his company. Mr. Moses will remain here until after January 1.

GEN. SHERIDAN HONORED TODAY

Washington Sees Unveiling of His Statue.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

Mr. Roosevelt Eulogizes Career of "Fighting Phil" in Civil War Battles and in Fights With Indians. Monument Shows General at Close of Famous Ride to Cedar Creek From Winchester, "Twenty Miles Away."

Washington, Nov. 25.—In one of the most beautiful parts of the national capital he helped to save, the magnificent equestrian statue of General Philip H. Sheridan was unveiled today. Among the throng of notable persons who gathered to do honor to the memory of the great soldier were the president of the United States, who delivered an address; the army and navy officers resident or stationed in and near Washington, the heads of the executive branches of the government, diplomatic representatives of foreign countries and others of note.

The statue stands in Sheridan circle, named after the general, at the junction of Massachusetts avenue and Twenty-third street. It is the heart of one of the best residence sections of the national capital.

The universal opinion of those who witnessed the unveiling today is that the statue of the famous cavalry leader is a worthy memorial of his fame. It represents the general at the close of his famous ride when, coming from Winchester, "twenty miles away," he rallied his men at the battle of Cedar Creek and turned their rout by the Confederate General Jubal A. Early into a Federal victory.

Statue True to Life.

The bronze general sits his bronze steed like a centaur, bat in hand, urging his men to greater exertion. The edify of the man is a true representation of "Fighting Phil" as he was in the flesh, and the metal horse shows to the life his famous charger, Rienzi, sometimes known as Winchester, who bore the general from Winchester on the storied ride. The sculptor of the statue, Gutzon Borglum of New York, has caught to the life the expression of the general's face, according to Mrs. Sheridan and her son, Lieutenant Philip H. Sheridan. The horse is a correct facsimile of Rienzi, according to careful measurements of his skin, preserved at the army post on Governors island, New York, and photographs.

The clothing and accouterments of General Sheridan shown in the statue are modeled after garments actually worn by him. He is depicted wearing a service uniform, with sword and spurs.

The statue is fourteen feet high and stands on a plinth of granite. The upper part of the statue's base is rough, indicating the earth torn up by Sheridan's horse as he is reined up by his rider.

Record Bronze Cast.

The horse is the largest piece of bronze ever cast in a single piece in this country and perhaps in the world. More than 6,000 pounds of liquid bronze were poured into the mold to form the horse. The casting was done at a foundry near Providence, R. I.

Preceding the unveiling of the statue there was a military parade in which all the regular troops, sailors and marines stationed in and near Washington as well as the national guard of the District of Columbia took part.

In addition to President Roosevelt's speech an address was delivered by General Horace Porter, who was chief of staff to General Grant and is president of the Grant Monument association. The principal address was delivered by President Roosevelt, who eulogized General Sheridan's army career both in the civil war and in the fighting on the western plains with the Indians. The president's address was as follows:

The President's Address.

It is eminently fitting that the nation's illustrious men, the men who loom as heroes before the eyes of our people, should be fittingly commemorated here at the national capital, and I am glad indeed to take part in the unveiling of this statue to General Sheridan. His name will always stand high on the list of American worthies. Not only was he a great general, but he showed his greatness with that touch of originality which we call genius. Indeed, this quality of brilliance has been in one sense a disadvantage to his reputation, for it has tended to overshadow his solid ability. We tend to think of him only as the dashing cavalry leader, whereas he was in reality not only that, but also a great commander. Of course the fact in his career most readily recognized was his mastery in the necessarily modern art of handling masses of modern cavalry so as to give them the fullest possible effect not only in the ordinary operations of cavalry which precede and follow a battle, but in the battle itself. But in addition he showed in the civil war that he was a first class army commander both as a subordinate of Grant and when in independent command. His record in the Valley campaign and again from Five Forks to Appomattox, and his skill as parallel to that of Grant, who after the close of the great civil war in a field where there was scant glory to be won by the general in chief, he rendered a signal service which has gone almost unnoticed, for in the tedious, weary Indian wars on the great plains it was he who developed in thoroughgoing fashion the system of campaigning in winter which, at the cost of bitter hardship and peril, finally broke down the banded strength of those formidable warriors, the horse Indians.

General's Career Eulogized.

His career was typically American, for from plain beginnings he rose to the highest military position in our land. We honor his memory itself, and, moreover, as in the case of the other great commanders of his day, his career symbolizes the careers of all those men who in the years of the nation's direst need sprang to the front to risk everything, including life itself, and to spend the days of their strongest young manhood in valorous conflict for an ideal. Often we Americans are taunted with having only a material ideal. The empty folly of the taunt is sufficiently shown by the presence here today of you men of the Grand Army, you the comrades of the dead general, the men who served with and under him. In all history we have no greater instance of subordination of self, of the exalting of a lofty ideal over merely material well being among the people of a great nation, than was shown by our own people in the civil war.

And you, the men who were the blue, would be the first to say that this same lofty indifference to the things of the body, when compared to the things of the soul, was shown by your brothers who wore the gray. Dreadful was the suffering, dreadful the loss, of the civil war. Yet it stands alone among wars in this, that, now that the wounds are healed, the memory of the mighty deeds of valor performed on one side no less than on the other has become the common heritage of all our people in every quarter of this country. The completeness with which this is true is shown by what is occurring here today. We meet together to raise a monument to a great Union general in the presence of many of the survivors of the Union army, and the secretary of war, the man at the head of the army, who, by virtue of his office, occupies a special relation to the celebration, is himself a man who fought in the Confederate service. Few indeed have been the countries where such a conjunction would have been possible, and blessed indeed are we that in our own beloved land it is not only possible, but seems so entirely natural as to excite no comment whatever.

Americanism Defined.

There is another point in General Sheridan's career which it is good for all of us to remember. Whereas Grant, Sherman and Thomas were of the old native American stock, the parents of Sheridan, like the parents of Farragut, were born on the other side of the water. Any one of the five was just as much a type of the real American, of what is best in America, as the other four. We should keep steadily before our minds the fact that Americanism is a question of principle, of purpose, of idealism, of character; that it is not a matter of birthplace or creed or line of descent. Here in this country the representatives of many old world races are being fused together into a new type, a type the main features of which are already determined and were determined at the time of the Revolutionary war, for the crucible in which all the new types are melted into one was shaped from 1776 to 1789, and our nationality was definitely fixed in all its essentials by the men of Washington's day. The strains will not continue to exist separately in this country as in the old world. They will be combined in one, and of this new type those men will best represent what is loftiest in the nation's past, what is finest in her hope for the future, who stand each solely on his worth as a man, who scorn to do evil to others and who refuse to submit to wrongdoing themselves, who have in them no taint of weakness, who never fear to fight when fighting is demanded by a sound and high morality, but who hope by their lives to bring ever nearer the day when justice and peace shall prevail within our own borders and in our relations with all foreign powers.

Much of the usefulness of any career must lie in the impress that it makes upon the lessons that it teaches to the generations that come after. We of this generation have our own problems to solve, and the condition of our solving them is that we shall all work together as American citizens without regard to differences of section or creed or birthplace, copying not the divisions which so lamentably sundered our fathers one from another, but the spirit of burning devotion to duty which drove them forward, each to do the right as it was given him to see the right, in the great years when Grant, Farragut, Sherman, Thomas and Sheridan, when Lee and Jackson and the Johnstons, the valiant men of the north and the valiant men of the south, fought to a finish the great civil war. They did not themselves realize in the bitterness of the struggle that the blood and the grim suffering marked the death throes of what was worn out and the birth pangs of a new and more glorious national life. Mighty is the heritage which we have received from the men of the mighty days. We in our turn must gird up our loins to meet the new issues with the same stern courage and resolute adherence to an ideal which marked our fathers who belonged to the generation of the man in whose honor we commemorate this monument today.

W. R. C. Meeting.

Although the weather was unfavorable Monday afternoon, all of the chairs were filled at the W. R. C. meeting and a very profitable and pleasant afternoon was spent. A great many glasses of jelly and jars of fruit were brought to be sent to the soldiers' home at Quincy for a Thanksgiving offering. A barrel is sent each year. Two new members were initiated and two names balloted on. One of the ladies suggested that each member send a post card to our corps member, Mrs. John Blackman, at Emmett, Idaho, where she has gone for her health and who is homesick for Dixon.

A motion was made and carried that the sixteenth anniversary of the W. R. C. be celebrated on Dec. 12, and that the G. A. R. be invited. The president reminded the ladies that election time is near and any one being six months in arrears is not entitled to vote and is ineligible to office.

About twenty ladies of the G. A. R. Circle of Dixon accepted the invitation of the Rochelle Circle and went to that city yesterday morning, where they were met at the depot by the officers of the Rochelle Circle and escorted to the Rochelle House, where an elegant dinner was served. In the afternoon the Dixon ladies attended the meeting in the hall, where a very pleasant afternoon was spent. Each lady who attended speaks in the highest terms of the hospitality and courtesy extended them by the Rochelle Circle.

The Misses Howlette will spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Will Smith of North Dixon.

Indigestion Is Not Really A Disease

Merely a temporary disturbance of digestive functions. Yet it occasions considerable discomfort--if neglected. Also it leads to disease. Kodol insures against indigestion and dyspepsia, by guaranteeing digestion.

It does this by duplicating Nature's digestive process, at its best. Whenever it is required to do so, it digests all food taken into the stomach. This affords the stomach complete rest. Rest and Nature can accomplish wonders with a sick stomach.

You say, "Kodol must be a pretty good medicine." Here you would be wrong--in a way; Kodol is not a medicine--merely a timely assistant to Nature, when Nature needs it.

The unthinking person would say that digestion takes place in the stomach. As a matter of fact, digestion commences the moment a piece of food is taken in the mouth. The various stages of digestion are mastication, digestion (proper), absorption and assimilation.

The digestive process as a whole is very intricate and delicate. Also, it is exceedingly important that it go forward exactly as Nature intended. Any interference with Nature's work in this connection is apt to prove disastrous. Then is when Kodol is needed. Sometimes it is badly needed.

While indigestion, as stated, is not in itself a disease, medical records show that it induces chronic dyspepsia. This is where Kodol helps. Also, many ailments even more dangerous.

Some of these ailments due to indigestion are apoplexy, heart disease, cancer, and even consumption. All of these are known to result from impure, thin or impoverished blood. Here is where Kodol is needed. Poor digestion brings about these conditions of the blood. It does so by creating poisons which are fed into the blood and thence, throughout the whole system.

Plain as A-B-C--isn't it? Yet all this is easily avoided. Whenever the stomach (through abuse or neglect) fails in the performance of its work, Kodol will cheerfully take up that work. It takes it up just where the stomach left off; digests the food just as the stomach should digest it. Kodol has then accomplished all that is necessary to accomplish.

Kodol is prepared in liquid form. This is essential, in order that all the elements required for complete digestion, may be included. Pepsin tablets of course help a little--but pepsin digests only one class of food. Therefore, pepsin is not a complete digester. Kodol is. A job half done is not done at all.

CANNON'S COMMENTS

Speaker Makes Some Remarks Relative to the Tariff and the Speakership.

HONEST REVISION IS CERTAIN

That Is What the Representatives Are There For.

No Need of "Fretting" About the Next Gavel-Wielder--House Competent to Elect One Without "Dictation."

Washington, Nov. 25.—Declaring that there will be an honest revision of the tariff, and that there is no present need of "fretting" about the selection of a speaker for the house in the Sixty-first congress, Speaker Cannon has arrived here from his home in Illinois for the approaching session of congress. He added to the newspaper men who greeted him that he believed that the people would get the sort of tariff revision that they voted for. Later he issued a statement in which he declared that he was not attempting to dictate to the house, and that through the system of election of members the people were reasonably certain of having their views enacted into law. In the course of his statement the speaker says:

Election of the Speaker.
"The election of speaker for the Sixty-first congress is yet a considerable distance in the future. When that congress is about to assemble—which I presume will be some time in March—the Republican members of the house of representatives will hold a caucus, as has been the custom from the foundation of the party, and select a candidate for speaker to be supported by the party at the organization of the house. I presume that the representatives will be perfectly competent to select their speaker, and I do not see any present need for fretting about the matter."

Honest Revision? Of Course.
"Of course there will be an honest revision of the tariff. We made the campaign on that issue, and every Republican member was elected with that in view. Every one of those Republicans, without an exception, will I believe strive to the best of his intelligence and ability to attain the tariff results desired by the people who elected him. All will not have the same views and each one cannot have his own way altogether. There must be mutual concessions and compromise, out of which will come the result which, on the whole, is most acceptable or least objectionable to all."

Duties of the Speaker.
"Whoever is elected speaker of the next house must so perform his functions as to assist the house in arriving at the result which will best represent the views of the responsible party in the house, striving to carry out the will of the people who elected him. In over thirty years' experience in the house, sometimes under one party control, sometimes under the other, I have never seen the responsible political party go wilfully against what it thought to be the sentiment of the people."

House Responsive to the People.
After saying that mistakes are sometimes made, but that the Dingley bill—as proved by its long life as lives of tariff bills—was not one of them, the speaker added: "There is one thing which you may be sure: Those representatives will do their very best to perform what the people want, for they must go before the people in 1910 and account for their acts. A senator accounts for himself once in six years, a president once in four years; but the representative accounts once in two years. The speaker of the house has a double accounting—to his constituents in his own district, and to his associates in the house who elect him." For this reason no representative, and especially no speaker, would fail to his best to carry out the people's will. He concluded by saying that he did not pretend to prophesy or dictate and that—"It is and should be beyond any man's power to dictate to the house of representatives."

IRON AND STEEL THE TOPIC

Tariff Inquirers Are Dealing with Those Subjects Today.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Preparatory to the hearings on the question of iron and steel tariff revision which began today before the house ways and means committee an informal conference was held of those representatives of steel and iron companies who already have arrived in this city to appear before the committee. No definite action was taken on any question in connection with the hearing, the matters relating thereto being discussed merely in a general way.

Yesterday's hearings were devoid of interesting features, the Democratic members of the committee failing to enter into any severe examination of witnesses. The entire afternoon session was devoted to the tariff on glass and glassware. W. T. Kana, of the Penn. American Glass company, was a witness who wanted the duty increased. Boutell questioned the witness as to whether the American laborer would benefit from an increase in the tariff, and when informed that he would not, Boutell said: "For three weeks this committee has conducted these hearings. The testimony has uniformly shown that increased duties will not accrue to the benefit of the laborer, and that a decrease in the duties will not accrue to the benefit of the ultimate consumer. It seems that no matter what we do, if we raise or lower the tariff it will only benefit one class, to which you belong." Kana replied: "The poor manufacturer."

"Precisely," replied Boutell. "I want to know what will be accomplished by revision of the tariff."

FORAKER IN A CONFERENCE

Talks with Governor Harris and Senator Dick--Tariff Views.

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—Senators Foraker and Dick conferred at length with Governor Harris over the vacancy in the senate to be caused by the expiration in March of Senator Foraker's term. The two senators were closeted with the executive or political friends throughout most of the day and evening, but declined to make any statements regarding their conference other than to deny reports that they had entered an alliance on the senatorship.

Foraker and Dick both addressed a gathering of 100 wool growers and others in the wool business and both took an attitude against revision of the tariff. Senator Foraker said he did not think any tariff commission could frame a tariff law which would be as satisfactory as the present protective schedules. Senator Dick said he was for protection first, last and all the time. Both declared they would seek to maintain the present tariff on wool. Senator Dick said: "The Dingley tariff bill, in my opinion, is better than any future congress can make. The prosperity under it is a testimonial which cannot be denied and therefore stands as an indorsement."

KNIFE FOR APPROPRIATIONS

Chairman Tawney Proposes to Cut Wherever It Is Possible.

Washington, Nov. 25.—With the prospect of the second half of a two billion dollar congress looming up before it the house committee on appropriations will begin next Monday its work of attempting to cut down estimates submitted by the secretary of the treasury for running the government during the coming fiscal year. The first thing Chairman Tawney did when he arrived at his committee room was to issue a call for the committee to meet.

The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills will be taken up first. The estimates are about $32,000,000, and vary very little from the current appropriation. Chairman Tawney plans to conclude the hearing on this bill before congress convenes on Dec. 7, and to have the measure passed by the house before the Christmas holidays.

Carnegie's Reply to the Committee.

New York, Nov. 25.—Andrew Carnegie has replied by mail to the ways and means committee's invitation to go to Washington and give them the benefit of his new tariff views, but he refused to disclose the nature of his reply, saying he thought such action on his part would be discourteous to the committee.

SIXTEEN KNOWN DEAD

CYCLONE HAVOC IN ARKANSAS

Three Others Fatally Hurt—Property Destruction Greater Than at First Anticipated.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 25.—Latest reports from western Arkansas show that although first reports of the number killed in Monday's tornado were exaggerated the property damage will be larger than anticipated. The known dead number sixteen, while unconfirmed reports declare that six other persons lost their lives as a result of the storm. Verified reports place the number of injured at twenty-three, of whom three will die.

The known dead are: Mrs. John Ross, near Ozark, and three children; Dick Hill, farmer, near Mulberry; Hawkins, woman, near McNeill; Beshan, wife and eight children, near Watahulu. Fatally injured: John Ross, near Ozark; Mrs. L. A. Hill, near Watahulu; Jackson, farmer, near Vanburen.

DORANDO AND HAYES AGAIN

Leaders in the Marathon Race at London Will Repeat the Run at New York.

New York, Nov. 25.—Followers of track athletics will have their inning here tonight, when they will see Dorando, the Italian runner who so nearly won the Marathon race in London, run against Johnny Hayes, the American winner of the race. Hayes and Dorando—whose right name, by the way, is Dorando Pietri—will meet in Madison Square Garden and will run the Marathon distance, twenty-six miles and 385 yards.

Both men are confident, but the Italian is supported by the fact that Hayes is familiar with circular tracks like that in the Garden, while Dorando is not. J. J. Dolak, who is looking after Hayes' interests in this country, claims he will do better here than he did in London. Hayes' friends cannot see the Italian at any stage of the race.

The Essence of a Gentleman.

The gentleman is the man who is master of himself, who respects himself and makes others respect him. The essence of a gentleman is eternal self-rule. It implies a character which possesses itself, a self-controlling force, a liberty which affirms and regulates itself according to the type of true dignity.—Henri Frederic Amiel.

HOW CHICAGO DUG UP

"Tag Day" at the Big City Produces Some Cash for Children Charities.

TAGGERS DID A BIG BUSINESS

Anything from a Penny to a $50 Bill Was Acceptable—Novel Case of an Attorney—Items.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Chicago was touched yesterday for half a hundred thousand dollars or less. Confronted by scores of women, who worked in the rain to help five children's charities, Chicago reached down deeper into its pocketbook than ever before in its history for a like purpose, making "tag day" an unequalled success. Approximately $50,000, it was estimated was gathered at the railway stations, on trains, in hotel lobbies, at street corners and other places where the currents of commerce run the strongest.

Division of the Sum

This sum will be divided among five charities—the Children's Day association, the Boys' Shelter Club of Allendale, the Margaret Etter Creche, the Chicago Home for Convalescent Women and Children and the South Side Free Dispensary for Children—each organization retaining the amounts received by its women who collected the money. No other charitable effort in the history of the city has made so widespread an appeal, the "taggers" ranging from newsboys to millionaires, and the amounts received from a penny to $50 bank notes.

Gave a Paper for a Tag

One of the women engaged in the begging process was quite impressed when a little newsboy ran up to her with his papers under his arm and said: "I can't get much money, but I'll give you a paper for a tag." "Well, bless your little heart," she said, "you shall have one," and the youngest sold over to Michigan avenue the proudest gain in the street.

Had a Nail in Her Stomach

Chicago, Nov. 25.—After suffering two weeks with a nail she had swallowed perforating her stomach, Maggie Longa, three years old, is dead at the home of her parents, 52 West Erie street. The child, while playing on the kitchen floor, swallowed the nail. A physician found that it had lodged in her stomach, but efforts to remove it were futile. The child showed no ill effects at first.

PORTLAND, MAINE, CHILD

Ill, Weak and Emaciated, Restored to Health by Vinol.

"Our little daughter, six years of age, after a severe attack of the measles, which developed into pneumonia, was left pitifully thin, weak and emaciated. She had no appetite, and her stomach was so weak it could not retain food. She lay in this condition for weeks, and nothing the doctor prescribed did a bit of good, and we were beginning to think she would never recover."

"At this time we commenced to give her Vinol, and the effect was marvelous. The doctor was amazed at her progress, and when we told him we were giving her Vinol, he replied, 'It is a fine remedy, keep it up.' We did so, and she recovered her health and strength months before the doctor thought she could." J. W. Flagg, Portland, Me.

Vinol cures conditions like this because in a natural manner it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body.

Black Hand After Him

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Joseph Farina, a well-to-do Italian grocer at 118 Townsend street, is terror stricken as the result of the receipt through the mail of a third letter signed "The Black Hand" and bearing skull and cross bones. Demand is made for $500 under threats of death to a member of the grocer's family.

EXTERNAL REMEDY FOR ECZEMA

WHY SALVES FAIL WHILE A SIMPLE LIQUID HAS ACCOMPLISHED THOUSANDS OF CURES.

It is now thoroughly established among the best medical authorities that eczema is purely a skin disease, due to a germ and curable only through the skin. It is not a blood disease at all; in fact, thousands of people suffer with skin disease and are perfectly healthy otherwise, and therefore prove they have no diseased blood.

Smeary salves cannot reach the germs because they do not penetrate the skin. The only way to reach the germs is by means of a penetrating liquid.

Such a liquid can be obtained by simply mixing ordinary oil of wintergreen with thymol, glycerine and other healing agents. This compound, known as D. D. D. Prescription, stops the itch instantly—and the cures all appear to be permanent. In fact, it took thousands of cures, case after case, before the scientific authorities were convinced of the absolute merit of this remedy. The effect of D. D. D. Prescription in numbing the itching eczema germs is seen within one minute after the first application. We especially recommend D. D. D. Soap in connection with this treatment.—C. M. Campbell & Son, Druggists.

JOHN D. STEPS DOWN

Tells Under Protest Where He Invests His Money.

John D. Rockefeller closed his testimony before Archbold was called. His last testimony related to his investments. He protested against telling what railways he was interested in, after saying that railway investments were his favorites, but finally said he held stock in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western; the New York Central; the Pennsylvania; the Western Maryland; the Missouri Pacific; the Texas Pacific; and the Colorado Southern. He said he owned no stock in either the Union or the Southern Pacific. He said in reply to a question: "I may be a director in some railroad in the United States, but at this moment I do not recall a railroad in which I am a director."

"Are you largely interested in railroads over which the Standard Oil company is doing business?" "I am an investor. I may have stock in a railroad company over which oil shipments may be made."

Kellogg asked Rockefeller if he was interested in the Wisconsin and other railroads in which certain directors of the Standard were also directors. "I own bonds in the Wisconsin railroads."

There was a lively scene in the corridor of the customs house as Rockefeller was leaving the building at the conclusion of his testimony. A process server tried to thrust a subpoena into the hands of the Standard Oil head, but a law clerk accompanying Rockefeller saw his purpose and before the subpoena could be served he pushed Rockefeller into an elevator. The elevator shot downward, carrying Rockefeller out of the man's reach.

CASE AFTER CASE

here Are Plenty More Like This in Dixon.

Scores of Dixon people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

George Bennett of 511 First St., Dixon, Ill., says: "For about ten years I was troubled with a very weak back which bothered me mostly in the mornings when I got out of bed. I consulted my physician who told me I had kidney troubles and gave me medicines and plasters. The pains and aches across my back and hips kept getting worse instead of better until I was in a very bad condition being unable to lift anything or sleep at night. An acquaintance advised me to get Doan's Kidney Pills at Leake Bros.' drug store, which I did. I took them according to directions and can conscientiously say that they cured me. I can recommend them highly to others troubled as I was."

SPREADS TO MICHIGAN

Herds Sick of Foot-and-Mouth Disease Found Twenty Miles from Detroit.

STATE AND NATION IS AT WORK

Every Effort To Be Made to Stamp Out the Epidemic.

All Afflicted Cattle Will Be Promptly Killed, and State and Uncle Sam Pay the Butcher's Bill.

Detroit, Nov. 25.—After a conference of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Chief Melvin, of the bureau of animal industry, with state officials a quarantine was ordered against Michigan cattle similar to the one enforced in Pennsylvania and New York. Three federal government officials and the three members of the Michigan livestock sanitary commission spent eight hours visiting farms in the vicinity of Elm, Livonia township, Wayne county, near twenty miles west of Detroit, and discovered 100 unmistakable cases of foot-and-mouth disease.

Infection in His Clothes?

It is stated that the infection of one herd was traced directly to a visit its owner paid to a neighboring farm where cattle had fallen under suspicion and were being examined. Of the 100 cases discovered seven found on the farm of Charles Herschleb were very acute. The entire lot, however, found on five farms, will have to be destroyed. The slaughtering of the infected cattle is held in abeyance pending the gathering of an adequate staff of inspectors to take care of the situation here. But the Michigan commission took the initiative in declaring a quarantine on the farms where cases of the disease were found and men taking care of the stock or coming in contact with the cattle were prohibited from visiting other farms.

Nation and State to Pay.

It was agreed at a conference at the Hotel Cadillac that the federal government would pay the owners of destroyed cattle two-thirds of their loss, and the state of Michigan would pay one-third. Expenses of burial, disinfection, etc., are to be met in the same way and the value of the destroyed cattle is to be reached by appraisal. The situation at the local stockyards is comparatively free from complications, as the Detroit market days fall later in the week on Thursday and Friday and a special market day, Monday, practically cleared out the yards.

TO STAMP OUT THE PEST

Inspectors Ordered to the Field—Provisions of the Quarantine.

Dr. A. D. Melvin, of Washington, chief of the United States bureau of animal industry, has arrived here, and under his orders thirteen veterinary inspectors from the federal bureau in other cities are already on their way to Detroit to assist in the work to be done in Michigan, and more inspectors will be ordered to come here later if the necessities of the situation require. The force of inspectors will be assisted by laborers hired in the localities where slaughtering and disinfection is to be done.

Under the quarantine ordered by Secretary Wilson cattle may be received at the Michigan stock yards for immediate slaughter, but no animals can be sent out in interstate commerce, nor can feeders be sent into the country. The quarantine also applies to shipments of dressed carcasses of calves, sheep and other ruminants, and to shipments of hides and fodder, though such carcasses, hides and fodder may be shipped under certain restrictions regarding disinfection. The quarantine is effective from 6 a. m. today.

Reports from points out in the state so far have been favorable. The inspectors who have visited a number of cities and towns where the disease might be feared have encountered no cases as yet. The tour of inspection, however, has not been completed.

Buffalo, Nov. 25.—State Commissioner Pearson says of the foot-and-mouth disease in this state that the eight herds of infected cattle at Akron, have been killed, and that the only known cases now existing are in four herds near Lockport, and in one herd near Penn Yan.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 25.—"The foot-and-mouth disease among cattle is not sweeping over the state; the outbreak was caught too early for that," said Dr. Leonard Pearson, state veterinarian here. Dr. Pearson said the disease has been found in thirteen counties of the state and that all cases have been traceable to Buffalo. Thus far 324 head of cattle and 240 swine have been killed in the crusade against the disease.

World's Fair at Indianapolis?

Indianapolis, Nov. 25.—The next exposition of national and international scope is planned to be held in Indianapolis between May and November, 1911. Definite announcement has been made to that end. Until the general public has been consulted and given an opportunity to register its approval, the project will be left in the hands of twenty leading business men of this city, who will comprise the exposition committee.

IT IS SENATOR CUMMINGS NOW

New Wearer of Iowa's Toga Gives His Views on the Dominant Issues.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 25.—Governor Cummings was given his new title of senator by the extra session of the legislature by a vote of 109 to 35, the latter being cast for Porter, the Democratic nominee. This work was completed at 12:20 p. m., and later Lieutenant Governor Garst was duly inaugurated governor. A reception at which thousands attended was held in the rotunda of the capitol building at 8 p. m. Governor Garst and Senator Cummings stood in line for more than two hours receiving the congratulations of Iowans. It was not a dress suit affair. Rich and poor alike gathered at the great capitol building. Nearly all of Des Moines, it seemed, turned out to extend well wishes to the newly elected senator and governor.

Senator Cummings will go to Washington early next month to be officially sworn in. While Senator Cummings' speech of acceptance was a plea for harmony and for an eradication of factional differences in Iowa, he was none the less specific on the questions which have engaged his attention during his past career. Speaking of his attitude on the tariff he pledged himself and his efforts for immediate revision; he declared himself unalterably opposed to discrimination in the matter of freight rates, and condemned stock watering and other abuses of powerful corporations.

MOB MURDERS NEGROES

Three Die After Being Railroaded Through a Trial for Murder and Convicted.

Union City, Tenn., Nov. 25.—The little town of Tiptonville, bordering on Reelfoot lake, which has been the scene of many stirring incidents the past month, has now witnessed the lynching of three negroes who were arrested for murdering Special Deputy Sheriff Richard Gurness, and fatally wounding John Hall, a deputy sheriff. The negroes' names are: Marshall Stineback, Edward Stineback and Jim Stineback.

These brothers created a disturbance at a religious meeting near Tiptonville and when the two officers attempted to arrest them, a fight ensued in which the negroes came out victorious and made their escape. It was barely daylight next morning before a crowd of citizens from Tiptonville and surrounding country were in pursuit of the negroes, who were caught in a swamp and taken to jail at Tiptonville. Soon a mob gathered and lynching was threatened. Citizens of Tiptonville appealed to the mob and finally arranged to have the negroes tried at once. Court was opened, a jury secured, the negroes were tried and found guilty. Sentence had hardly been passed when the mob overran the courtroom, rushed the negroes to a tree and hanged them. Meantime Governor Patterson had heard of the trouble and ordered a company of militia to the scene, but it arrived too late.

Inauguration Preparation.

Washington, Nov. 25.—With the announcement by Chairman Hitchcock, of the Republican national committee, of the appointment of Edward J. Stille, of this city, as chairman of the inaugural committee, the first step was taken in the work of preparing for the inauguration of Taft and Sherman.

Ivory Antique

is the name of a composition used for Carver Handles. It is not new. We have sold it a dozen years, but until this year it has been very costly. It resembles old ivory and is very beautiful. This material is probably as satisfactory for carver handles as anything there is, and is fully guaranteed. Carvers with these handles and the highest grade of blades sell at from $2.50 to $6.00 per set.

WAS LET OFF EASY

Chicago, Nov. 25—Robert Palmer, the Joliet letter carrier who was recently caught after raiding the mails for years, plead guilty before Judge S. H. FLORISTS CANNOT

SECURE RED ROSES

O. L. Baird stated this morning that he made two attempts today to get red roses in Chicago. The florists in that city informed him that the roses could not be gotten for Thanksgiving as the trade in the city keeps them from making any country shipments. Red roses are more scarce this year than they have been for years. This is partially due to the weather.
